Rental Details

The Villa Cassava announces itself quietly. Elevated above Lower Bay on Bequia's southern shore, this four-bedroom residence was designed by Thomas Dehen — the Mustique-based architect whose work defines the aesthetic of considered Caribbean living across the Grenadines — and the provenance is evident in every decision. The design draws on two distinct traditions: the relaxed elegance of classic English architecture and the warmth of the Caribbean vernacular, resolved into something that feels entirely at home in its setting without being of any one place.
